MR. POST'S DUTY.

The Labor candidate for District-Attorney has a chance to win more renown, and do his party a greater service, than he can possibly do by continuing in the field.

There is no chance of his election. With two Democratic machines, backed by all the power of the Bosses and Boodlers, supporting FELLOWS, and NICOLL standing with three nominations as the representative of honest government and equal justice, there is no reason nor room for a third party.

Thousands of workmen will stand by NICOLL because he has always stood by them.
They see the one issue, and will vote on the right side. It would be strange if they should not, as their crusade is against corruption.

Mr. Post would gain distinction for himself and respect for his party by withdrawing in favor of NICOLL, whose platform is: "No submission to Boss dictation." "No quarter to public thieves," and "The same law for rich and poor." The Labor Party can make its mark with the rest of its ticket. It should side with the People for District-Attorney and turn a rebuke of Bossism into a crushing defeat.

WHERE TILDEN STOOD.

That "old-fashioned Democrat," WILLIAM B. HORNLOWAN, did well last night in commending to young men and old these sterling words of SAMUEL J. TILDEN, when he was accused, as DE LANCEY NICOLL now is, of betraying his party in fighting public thieves:
"I take my stand in the columns of reform and good government. I take my place there and will remain alone, if need be."

Where TILDEN stood, and where NICOLL stands, is the place for all friends of good government.

The line is drawn!

THE CONTRAST.

The two political gatherings held last evening sharply and fairly characterize the opposing elements in this campaign.

The FELLOWS meeting swarmed with officeholders, machine politicians and tax-esters.
Every speaker but one was either an officeholder or an ex-officeholder. It was a conclave of the People's servants who assume to be the People's masters.

The NICOLL meeting was thronged with young New Yorkers whose only purpose is to promote the welfare of this city. The speakers were men of brains and high integrity, untrammeled by machine influences. Among them were prominent Democrats.

The FELLOWS meeting was on the defensive.
Controlled by Bosses, it apologized for Bossism. The resolutions contained not a word urging the prosecution of the bribe-givers and bribe-takers. The NICOLL meeting was boldly aggressive. It had no excuses to make.
It denounced the Boodlers. It stood for the People against the Machine.

The contrast carries its own moral.

HOW TO TREAT BOSSSES.

If a newspaper sets up as a "boss," in an-tagonism to the public interests, there is a swift and sure way to rebuke it: Let the people stop buying and reading it.

This is just what the people did to the would-be newspaper boss that stabbed HAN-COCK, bearded CLAYTON, and sought to elect BLAINE President by heading the bush-whacking BEN BUTLER raid. The daily Amorica lost more than half its circulation and has never been able to regain it.

When a politician sets up as a boss, treat him in the same way. Stop voting his ticket.
Put upon his edicts the "veto power of the people." "Smash his machine," as Mr.
HEWITT advised in 1880.

And this is what will be done on Tuesday next. Bossism must go.

"IRREPARABLE DAMAGE."

An organ of the frightened Bosses now admits that the uprising of the people against the Boodle candidate for District-Attorney threatens "irreparable damage to Democratic interests in the State and country."

It does indeed. We have been telling the deaf and blind Democratic leaders this truth for a week past. The people were first amused. They grew indignant. They are now mad. If the attempt to cram FELLOWS down their throats at the behest of the Bosses is persisted in there is danger that they will smash the whole ticket. And the responsibility will be where the faithful Staats-Zeitung puts it: "Upon the stiff-necked leaders of the County Democracy."

The only way to avoid the "irreparable damage" is to yield to the will of the people and substitute NICOLL for FELLOWS. And the time is growing short.

THE ANARCHISTS' DOOM.

The popular approval of the Anarchists' doom is serious, not revengeful.
There is no cruelty in the purpose of law, however cruel its execution may sometimes be.
Its object is the protection of society.
The very fact that numbers of persons consider that the Anarchists committed no crime in inciting men to murder, and were justified in striking at the foundations of American institutions, proves that an example to the contrary is needed. The serpent's brood is best crushed when it is young.

A FATAL OMISSION.

The burning issue of this campaign is whether or not the prosecution of Boodlers shall be pushed.

The resolutions adopted at the FELLOWS meeting last night utterly ignore this all-important question.
Was it oversight or intent? It matters not. The omission, from whatever cause, is damning in its significance.

The People will take no risk of further omissions of this sort. They will put a man in the District-Attorney's office whose forgetfulness of Boodlers is not quite so well developed.

In NICOLL's platform this missing resolution will be found:
"No Quarter to Public Thieves."

REFORM THE ASYLUM.

NELLIE BLY's mission to the Insane Asylum on Blackwell's Island is bearing good fruit.
The Grand Jury, having investigated the condition of the institution, makes a resultant recommendation in the remarkable report by THE World's representative.

It is urged that the patients should have better medical attendance, better nurses, better food and better bathing and other facilities. To attain these reforms a more liberal appropriation is necessary and should be given without hesitation.

New York can bear her proper burdens without whimpering. Starve out the Boodlers, brush off the leeches, stop all the leaks, but deal with liberal hands with the poor and helpless wards of the city.

This is a cause espoused by THE WORLD with enterprise and persistence. It is an other sample of "newspaper bossism."

"POLITICS HAS NO MEMORIES."

So says the weathercock supporter of the Bosses: "Politics has no memories."

The nomination of JOHN R. FELLOWS could have been made only by men who believe this doctrine. They must have relied upon the people's forgetfulness of their character and of his record or they would never have committed such a monumental blunder.

Is it true? Have the people forgotten how FELLOWS helped to re-elect TWEED to the Senate after the boss thief was branded for the Penitentiary? Have they forgotten that FELLOWS was the Ring's mouthpiece in the State Convention, and denounced TILDEN and O'CONNOR as his supporters now denounce NICOLL? Have they forgotten that FELLOWS has been the ready tool of every Boss, from SWENY to POWER?

Has "politics no memories?" The election will show.

A SLIGHT INCONVENIENCY.

Mayor HEWITT has repeatedly declared that he had nothing to do with the county nominations.

It now appears on his own showing that he had a very lively and conspicuous finger in the pie. He says: "If anybody was responsible for the selection of FITZGERALD, I am the man." That the rejection of NICOLL and the nomination of FELLOWS was practically decided by "ME," is the inevitable conclusion from the Mayor's own letter and interviews.

These statements don't "jibe." To put it very mildly, Mr. HEWITT's jewel of consistency is much bedimmed by service in a bad cause.

There is much disappointment because the morning Amorica did not give a full report of the round-up of office-holders in behalf of FELLOWS last night. There was a little hissing episode overlooked that has a direct bearing upon the question of "treason" to the Democracy.

"One of the brightest and ablest young men in New York—a man of very great promise, who would make an excellent District-Attorney." So said Mayor HEWITT of DE LANCEY NICOLL on Oct. 5. So say the people now. So they will vote on Tuesday.

NICOLL sends a $250 check for the Democratic State ticket. The desperate County Bosses are scheming to administer quite a different sort of a check through the medium of a Deal.

There is not a fair-minded man in this city who doubts that the Labor party is legally entitled to its inspectors. Then stop this misérable legal farce and let fair play prevail.

The crocodiles, who are weeping "for the ruined political future of DE LANCEY NICOLL," will have a chance to cheer up next Tuesday.

The other world gained what this world lost, when JENNY LIND joined "the choir invisible."

O! Indigestion, how many splenetic letters and political har-karis are attributable to thee!

The Tammany men who "hanker after crows" will all swallow FELLOWS.

A "brooding Buddha" might be preferable to a brooding Boss.

Old Father Knickerbocker has a long memory, Col. FELLOWS.

LABOR LEADERS CONFIDENT.

THEY THINK THAT THEY WILL CARRY BOTH STATE AND CITY.

If Hard Work is Any Indication of Faith, They Surely Are in Dead earnest—Getting Ready for the Big Meeting To-Morrow Night—Post's Reasons for Thinking That He Will Be District-Attorney.

The Campaign Committee of the United Labor Party is a busy body. From early morning until late in the evening Secretaries O'Neill and Degnan and a corps of clerks and helpers are kept actively at work answering communications, sending out campaign literature by the wagon load, arranging meetings, supplying all the district organizations with ballots for the voters on election day, and attending to much other business demanded by the great pressure brought to bear from both city and country.

All the big guns of the party, including Henry George, Dr. McGlynn, Louis F. Post, Frederick C. Leubuscher, George W. Dasse, Morris W. Hart, John McCabe, James P.
Archibald, William McCabe, Everett Glackin, Dr. McCarthy, William J. O'Dair, Wilbur O. Eastlake, Joseph Parker, Abner C.
Thomas, John Vincent, Patrick Doody, Max Bayerdoster, and many others will be on hand at the meeting at Cooper Union, in the old wigwag tower, who will remember that speech, and who will surely resent it at the ballot-box next Tuesday.

It was in the same campaign and at Cooper Union that Col. FELLOWS said: "You are to say that you will no longer be the slave of any one man. (Applause.) If Tammany and we have disagreed on principles, I would have no return on my part, but it is another matter to bind the neck of the party with the yoke which one man (Kelly) puts upon it.
Keep your eyes open, and do not let any one so long as you give him control of your treasury. What has John Kelly done for you? Where is his statesmanship exhibited?
What are his military achievements? Is it John Kelly never had a more bitter assailant on the stump than John R. FELLOWS.

REMEMBER THIS, TAMMANY MEN.

Col. FELLOWS Never Could Say Enough that Was Bad Against John Kelly.

When Tammany voters are called upon tonight to shout for John R. FELLOWS as the ticket Boss Power has put up to vote for, let them remember that for years Mr.
FELLOWS was a virulent villain of their last leader, John Kelly. Let the Tammany men who honor John Kelly's memory turn to the columns of the Sun or Herald at the time of the Tammany boom in 1879 and read their reports of FELLOWS's speeches denouncing Tammany and assailing its leader, Col. Fellows was not a politician of much prominence at that time, but his invectives against John Kelly were so bitter that the press was compelled to take notice of them.

As a speech in Irving Hall, Nov. 2, 1879, Col. FELLOWS took occasion to air his an-tagonism to Kelly and said, among other things, this: "You have seen that there has not been a public plunderer, a ring thief, or anyone who has dipped his hands in the public treasury and taken them out filled with the people's wealth, who is not in this contending with the support of John Kelly and his bride Alonzo B. Cornell. (Loud cheers.) The Republican party which has been the party of moral ideas, which has denounced the Democratic party as a representative of crime, ballot-box stuffing and everything that is disgraceful, has allied itself with the greatest prostitute of the Democratic party—at the altar of Tammany Hall."

It was in the same campaign and at Cooper Union that Col. FELLOWS said: "You are to say that you will no longer be the slave of
any one man. (Applause.) If Tammany
and we have disagreed on principles, I would have no return on my part, but it
is another matter to bind the neck of the
party with the yoke which one man (Kelly) puts upon it.
Keep your eyes open, and do not let any one
so long as you give him control of your
treasury. What has John Kelly done for you? Where is his statesmanship exhibited?
What are his military achievements? Is it
John Kelly never had a more bitter assailant
on the stump than John R. FELLOWS.

THE DESCENDING SCALE.

(From the New York Sun, Oct. 12.)

"GO UP HIGHER!" This is what the Democracy of New York should say to Randolph B. Martine and De Lancey Nicoll by nominating them respectively for Judge of the Court of General Sessions and District Attorney.

(From the N. Y. Sun, Oct. 13.)

THE WORLD inquires as to the causes which have led the Herald and the Sun to reconsider their approval of the candidacy of Mr.
De Lancey Nicoll for District-Attorney.

So far as the Sun is concerned they are very grave. THEY RELATE TO "THE WORLD" ITSELF.

So far as we have known Mr. Nicoll and so far as we have watched his course, we have LEARNED TO ESTEEM HIM HIGHLY. But the more we admire the attainments of so young and promising a lawyer, the more profoundly we deplore his association with THE WORLD.

(From the N. Y. Sun, Nov. 2.)

Mr. Martine found a young lawyer (Nicoll) of pleasing personal address, great self-confidence, and that sort of bumptious-ness which is useful in certain lines of work. He also possessed muscular legs, and on that account was VALU-ABLE AS A MESSENGER. Mr. Martine took this young man into his office and gave him a start in life. The young gentleman's legs did excellent service for the District-Attorney, but the more he ran around the bigger his head grew.

Two Appeals to the Bosses.

(From the Herald, Nov. 3.) From the World, Oct. 5.
We intimate to Mr. J. Nov. 3, the County Democracy is a melancholy mockery, with Maurice and forlorn show—at J. Power as the leader, least we should judge so in this position; from the pathetic appeals they must either take to Col. Lamont, Secretary of the friends Tully Whitney and Chair- of the Boodlers, who man Murphy to come are waiting their order to do so. If they do not, they must take either Lamont, Whitney or the people of New York, who simply want an honest official and who know that Nicoll is just that sort of man.

Of Course Dana Loved Tweed.

(From the New York Sun, April 18, 1879.)

TORCHES, BANNERS AND BANDS.

A Great Turn Out Expected at the Progressive Labor Party Parade.

The Progressive Labor Party managers expect that their parade and torchlight procession on Saturday night will be a splendid success. At the party headquarters in Stanton street, it was reported to-day that organizations representing 17,000 members would join in the march.

John Swinton and Editors Shevitch and Jones and all the other shining lights of the party will review the procession from the rooftop on Union Square. Hundreds of flags and transparencies and many bands of music will be in the line. For a small party the Progressives are making a lively campaign.

John Swinton continues to address five or six meetings every night, and Editors Shevitch and Jones also make several speeches nightly.

R. K. of L. and the Ale Boycott.

A vigorous boycott has been placed upon the ale and porter brewed by Leary & Britton, according to reports from the Ale and Porter Brewers' Employees' Association. It is said that agents of the firm have failed to sell its product in New England towns, because of the boycott put upon it by the Knights of Labor.

Defensive Modesty.

Hostess—I'm delighted to see you, Miss Brimmer, but I fear there's been some mistake. This isn't a masquerade.

Miss Brimmer—who is not overburdened with beauty—knows that she is, but let her in the Sunday Gazette that old-fashioned games were becoming popular at receptions and so I borrowed cosmetics from my friend's make-up. I was afraid somebody might propose Copenhagen, you know.

The Ticker Affected His Appetite.

TILL another fierce onslaught was made upon Missouri Pacific at the opening of the Exchange this morning and the price of the stock was driven down a point. George K. Sistrup's Sons were credited with selling 8,000 shares. As soon as this order had been filled the bulls put their shoulder to the wheel and not only carried up Missouri Pacific a point and a half, but everything else with it as well. The Cammack-Bateman party may not have changed front, but they certainly do not meet with their former success in beating down prices.

The explanation is simple. The banks are piling up a big surplus, and instead of hoarding their money as was the case a short time since, are only too anxious to place it where it will bring a return of interest. The big little bulls by reason of this are enabled to come to the support of their favorites and their fighting qualities are also improved by the knowledge that they can get funds if necessary.

Considerable stress is laid upon the result of the conference of the Transcontinental roads now being held in Chicago. If it breaks up in a row look out for a squall in the market; so say the bears.

Statements that George Gould expected to be able to cable to his father on Saturday that Western Union was in the slightest infused more life into the stock, but somebody sold a big batch of it and it moved up very little.

St. Paul earnings for the last week of October decreased $34,817, but for the month they increased $1,323. What a commentary this is upon the alarmist talk about the railroad situation in the Northwest!
